Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barry. Barry discloses a captive screw comprising a ferrule (18); a screw having a head (21), shank (27), threads (26) and collar (25); and a spring (20). The screw is captured in the ferrule.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barry as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Aukzemas. Aukzemas discloses the particulars of the ferrule. Specifically, the ferrule is disclosed as having a knurled outer surface including a groove (32) and annular lip (generally at 30). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to the exterior of the ferrule of Barry as disclosed in the Aukzemas in order to improve its attachment to the panel. The ring on the ferrule being bent is a produce-by-process limitation wherein it is merely the final product considered for patentability. Barry shows a ring (22).

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues that the reference to Barry does not show a collar. In response, the examiner disagrees because as indicated in the above rejection, a collar is referenced at number 25 in Barry. Alternatively, the location at where the threads ends which forms a lip could be read as a collar. The claims do not set forth any distinguishing features to the collar which would define it over that shown in the prior art.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The new prior art references are cited to show a collar or limiting penetration of the shank.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
